

NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

VOTERS ARE ASKED TO AUTHORIZE INCREASE OF DEBT.

To Provide a New Building Made Necessary by the Overcrowding of Our Schools.

The action of the Board of School Directors on last Friday evening in passing a resolution asking the electors of the borough to vote upon the question of an increase of indebtedness for a new High School Building at the November election was taken after long deliberation. When the opening of schools in 1915 showed that the High School building was too small and rooms in other buildings were crowded beyond seating capacity, the directors at once realized that the school accommodations were short and the only relief was in a new High School building.

At the July meeting of the School Board the matter of a new building was discussed and the Board made provision then for canvas of experience in other places, so that they might have the benefit of the same in considering the subject. However was visited. While the population of Hanover is about two thousand more than Gettysburg, our sister borough has been spending a great deal of money in buildings. They had four large school buildings but were overcrowded. The Board asked the voters for an increase of indebtedness of $85,000 and it was carried by a majority of 100 at a special election last fall and the building is now in course of erection. It will contain the largest school auditorium in that town and will provide ten recitation rooms, and the outlook is that the entire amount voted will be needed.

Chambersburg in 1910 erected a handsome High School building at a cost including the equipment of $85,000. The building is built of brown stone first floor and light colored brick the other two stories. In the basement is a well equipped gymnasium with bleachers that will care for an audience of several hundred persons. The building contains office of Supervising principal, library, and twelve recitation rooms, one large one for domestic science work. On the second floor is a study hall containing room for 400 pupils. On the third floor is a fine auditorium with seating capacity for 800. Chambersburg has eight school buildings.

In reviewing the situation in Gettysburg making it necessary for the welfare of the inhabitants of the borough to have a new school building, the following facts stand out prominently:

Deficiencies in light, ventilation, and other features of the High Street building may require at any time the compulsory abandonment of that building. This condition imperils the school facilities for 247 children.

The school census is a growing one. 1912-13 517 children; 1913-14 524; 1914-15 537; 1915-16 550; 1916-17 563. There is no reason why the same percentage of annual increase can not be expected in the future.

The growth in attendance from other districts in county has been on the increase and with good school advantages will continue to grow.

This increase from other districts has brought to the borough school treasury a growing income, amounting in 1915 to over $1500. This sum is the interest of $30,000 and large additional facilities are justifiable by reason of this income alone.

The school buildings are crowded and there is no relief for this condition. Not counting new beginners there are now 247 pupils for the High Street building, 255 for the Meade building and 185 for the High School with 20 or more coming from outside districts.

The condition by grades is as follows: Seniors 37, Juniors 40, Sophomores 50 and Freshmen 58. These figures will be increased by attendance from outside districts. 8th grade 66, 7th grade 78, 6th grade 73, 5th grade 54, 4th grade 58, and grade 40, 21st grade 14, in 1st grade there are 10 and by the census there should be 29 more, making a first grade of 39. These figures show that classes will be maintained at present size or larger.

The figures for the High School show an attendance away beyond the seating capacity of the study room of that building. The figures for the other schools show them with large attendance and many of the rooms are crowded beyond their capacity. In the Meade building in the 8th grade Grammar there are 66 and in the 7th 78. In Miss Major's room there are 45, in Miss Scott's room 41, and in Miss Ruff's 22, and a number of the 40 odd beginners will go there. In the High Street building in Miss Maud Miller's room there are 47, in Miss McGraw's room 35, in Mrs. Wible's 47, in Mr. Wolf's 57, in Miss Sachs' 32, in Miss Alice Miller's 29, and in Miss Stoops' will be the larger part of the beginners.

The only relief for this crowded condition is a new building. The growth of the High School has required the renting of several rooms in a nearby residence, which relief can only be temporary. The High School Domestic Science Department must be enlarged according to the requirements of the State authorities to put the district in position to receive the help from the State of two-thirds of the cost of vocational training. The cramped condition prevents the enlargement of the Manual Training to bring the two-thirds help in that department. Accommodations are cramped not only for High School work but in many of the grades.

The school building now needed is such as to give adequate school facilities for 25 to 30 years.

Good school facilities require an adequate school tax rate and the rate of nine mills in Gettysburg is quite moderate in comparison with other good school towns in the State. Many places have a millage of from 20 to 25 mills. Four mills additional and not over 5 should make ample provision for the financing of a new building.

The following resolution was adopted by the School Board after hearing a report of conditions in other places and considering their own situation:

Be it and it is hereby resolved by the Board of Directors of the School District of the Borough of Gettysburg that the welfare of the inhabitants of said district requires the securing of a new High School building for the use of the inhabitants of said district, the present buildings becoming crowded and the accommodations inadequate.

Be it and it is hereby further resolved, by the Board of School Directors of the School District of the Borough of Gettysburg that it is the desire of the said Board of Directors that the indebtedness of the said School District be increased from the sum of Twenty Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars to a sum not exceeding Ninety Thousand Dollars for the purpose of acquiring a site and of erecting, constructing, furnishing and equipping a High School building for the use of the inhabitants of the said district, and the question of increasing the indebtedness of the said district to the amount set forth above being more than two and less than seven percent upon the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property within the said district for the purpose set forth, be submitted to the electors of the said district at the next regular general election to be held on Tuesday the seventh day of November between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. at the regular polling places for the holding of general elections, for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors thereof to said increase of indebtedness. And the Board of School Directors of the School District of the Borough of Gettysburg be and they are hereby authorized and directed to give notice of said election at least thirty days prior to the holding thereof by weekly advertisements in the newspapers published within said School District of the Borough of Gettysburg not exceeding three in number and said notice shall contain a statement of the amount of the last preceding assessed valuation of taxable property in said district, of the amount of the existing debt of said district, of the amount and percentage of the proposed increase and of the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be increased. That the proposed increase of indebtedness shall be evidenced by bonds bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent, annum of the value of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, each bearing date the 1st day of December 1916, ten of which shall mature on the 1st day of December 1919 and the same number on the 1st day of December in each year annually thereafter until the whole of the proposed increase of indebtedness shall be paid. And the said bonds shall be executed in such form as the Board of Directors of the School District of the Borough of Gettysburg shall determine.

The Board next authorized the notice to be given to be found in another column.

The Board authorized its President to lease from Mrs. Edward Culp the first floor rooms in her home for the use of the Domestic Science Department.

Notices were ordered to be sent teachers that in accordance with the orders of the State Health Department school would not open before Sept. 20 and further notice would be sent of the exact date of opening.

A schedule of studies is being prepared by Supervising Principal Meyer and will be printed for the scholars.

The Advisory Committee in the Household Arts Committee provided by law was named as follows: Mrs. T. J. Winkler, Mrs. C. S. Reaser, Mrs. H. M. Hoon, Mrs. Wm. A. McLean, and Mrs. P. M. P. McPherson.

Great Test of Auto Engine.

At the preliminary test of the new Ford Fire Engine last Friday evening, the result was most gratifying. With three streams of water the engine pumped a maximum of 915 gallons of water with 100 lbs. pump pressure and with nozzles of smaller size 850 gallons with 150 lbs. pressure. The official test will be arranged at an early date for the Underwriters' official. The tests have been from a 12 inch main and tests will be made from the smaller mains.

She now holds a position at the Mills Grocery. Mr. Hershey was a member of the 1916 graduating class at Gettysburg College and was elected last spring to a position on the faculty of the York High School. He resigned his position last week and left last Saturday for Lafayette, Ind., where he accepted a position as instructor of Spanish and German in the Lafayette High School. He assumed his new duties Monday. In addition to his work as an instructor, Prof. Hershey will take a post graduate course at Purdue University, which is located in Lafayette.

COLLEGE OPENS NEXT WEEK

With Largest Attendance in History of the Institution.

Gettysburg College will open on Wednesday of next week, September 20th, and the Gettysburg Academy on Tuesday, October 3rd. The delay in the opening of latter institution is made necessary by the State health regulations made in precaution against infantile paralysis.

Both institutions will open with the largest enrollment in the history of Gettysburg College and its preparatory school. The total in the Collegiate Department, 379 last year, will go over the 400 mark and the total of 70 at the Academy will go over the 100 mark, so that the total at the two institutions will go over 500, a gain of about 12 per cent. over last year. The prospects are for a Freshman class of 150, overtopping last year's class of 124.

The finishing touches on the new Academy building are being rushed and the outlook is that all the additional room that has been provided will be occupied.

The football training camp opened Thursday, under the direction of Athletic Director Doyle Leathers and Coach R. M. Berryman. It is expected that three complete "clever" will report.

New professors are arriving. Professor M. H. Valentine of Philadelphia, is welcomed as head of the department of English Bible and History. Dr. Valentine is a son of Dr. Milton Valentine, the third president of the college, and for many years he was editor of the "Lutheran Observer" at Philadelphia.

Professor W. H. Barney comes here from Syracuse University to become head of the Department of Romance Languages. He succeeds Professor J. P. Schappelle, who last spring accepted a traveling scholarship from the University of Pennsylvania and is now engaged in an historical investigation into immigration to South America from the northern European nations.

Professor J. K. Lamond, of Yale, is the new head of the Department of Mathematics and Astronomy, succeeding Professor H. B. Nixon, who died last March.

The Department of English also secures a new head in Professor S. N. Hagen, of Johns Hopkins. He takes the place of Dr. H. R. Shipley, who last spring accepted a post at the University of Cincinnati.

Lewis N. Snyder of Harrisburg, class of 1913, and Charles Graber of Philadelphia, class of 1915, are the assistant masters in Gettysburg Academy. Will S. Taylor of Gettysburg will assist Professors Sanders and Valentine in their courses in Philosophy and History at College and Otis H. Reachard of York to succeed Fred G. Troxell as instructor in mathematics. Professor Troxell has accepted a position in the Steelton public schools.

Gettysburg College will be among the first institutions in the country to receive the services of a military instructor under the terms of the new army bill. The rules and regulations are being worked out and it is hoped to have the drill and instructions begin as soon after the opening of College as the War Department will have completed its plans.

John Reed Scott's New Novel.

"The Cab of the Sleeping Horse" is title of the new novel by the distinguished Gettysburg attorney-novelist, John Reed Scott. It was published this week. With this volume Mr. Scott severs his connection with the J. B. Lippincott Co. of Philadelphia, and the great New York and London publishing house of G. P. Putnam Sons, announce the new work with the following description:

"Three crushed roses intimating violence, a cypher message, and the picture of a beautiful woman, known to be an international spy, and not supposed to be in Washington—that's what Harleston, gentleman and member of the Secret Service, found in a cab, deserted by ail but the horse sleeping between the shafts, at 1 A. M. on Massachusetts Ave. And before dawn he was set upon in his own apartment. Mr. Scott knows how to tell a charming love story and arouse intense excitement at the same time."

Our Weekly Farmers.

A few years ago this significant remark was made: "The old Dutchess County would be one of the wealthiest agricultural counties in the State and Nation this year. Some of the conditions contributing to this result are a good wheat crop, much of it already sold at from $1.30 to $1.45 a bushel. A fine peach crop of thousands of baskets which have been successfully marketed at good prices. One fruit grower has sent a big auto truck loaded with baskets of peaches to markets as far away as Baltimore. A magnificent crop of apples will likely be sold at about $2.50 a barrel. Seven car loads of Yorks have already been picked for export trade, and for this purpose are taken off the trees early. The regular picking of winter apples will begin at an early date. The buyers are slow in coming over with the price, but the opinion prevails that the price will be $2.50 a barrel for many varieties and better for some of the special. A bumper crop of corn is looked for from the many tall corn fields. All farm products have been bringing good prices. It is said, and the financial condition of the farmers of the county for 1916 can be described fittingly by no other word than wealth."

Flowers and Leaves.

Flowers are produced by the sacrifice of stem and leaves, which subordinate their own functions to the making of seed to carry on the species. In the late summer time, when plants have flowered and set their seed, the leaf spirit seems again to assert itself and in many instances becomes so strong that the principle of its self sacrifice is revealed. One often sees roses, after producing perfect blossoms, producing some which push out a small bunch of green leaves from the heart, or perhaps the axis of the aborted stem grows right out from the middle and bears a small secondary rosebud. This secondary rose is generally smothered in a calyx more like a conglomeration of leaves than any ordinary calyx, the calyx showing a strong tendency to revert to the leaf form.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Stupendous Surnames.

The bearers of some of the surnames which appear in medieval documents must have been glad of an excuse to change them. Apparently this was done for the more grotesque have either vanished or have been modified out of recognition. Among the former are such names as Alice Thepunders stepdaughter, Mazelina Seabworthman, Frothesauvia Del Countinghouse, Godismen Attestretescende and Thomas Wrenawisshe, which certainly have no claimants nowadays.

Many surnames derived from trade or service have been contracted, such as Le Linderup into Draper, Le Cou birde into Coward, Le Chapelain into Chaplin and Le Gresenour (gross reneur) into Grosvenor.—London Opinion.

STATE TO JOIN WITH COUNTIES

Plan to Regulate Streams in Pennsylvania Finds Favor

NATION TO BUILD THE WORKS

Co-operation of Governmental Agencies in the Construction of Storage Reservoirs to be Advocated in Next Legislature.

With the assistance of Gov. Martin G. Brumbaugh and the state administration much consideration and study is being given the form which the river regulation legislation to be introduced at the next session of the legislature shall take. The plan which has the most advocates is the one under which the necessary works are to be constructed by the federal War Department out of funds provided by the states and counties affected, as well as by the national government.

In order to make such a plan workable in Pennsylvania new legislation was required and to that end a bill was prepared which permitted counties to issue bonds, the proceeds of which could be expended by the War Department in conjunction with other funds appropriated by the state and nation. This bill was passed in the session of 1911. No new legislation by this state was required to entirely legalize proceeding with the storage reservoirs and other river regulation works in this way, but an Act of Congress was necessary. The Congress of the United States became impressed with this idea of co-operation and at its recent session a bill was presented which put this principle into effect. This bill provides:

Up to the Army Engineers. "That all money appropriated for works and projects relating to flood control hereafter authorized shall be expended, and all examinations, surveys, and improvements of such works and projects shall be made under the direction of the Secretary of War and the supervision of the Chief of Engineers; and all the provisions of existing law relating to examinations and surveys and to works of improvement of rivers and harbors shall apply, so far as applicable, to examinations and surveys and to works of improvement relating to flood control. And all expenditures of funds hereafter appropriated for works and projects relating to flood control shall be made in accordance with and subject to the law governing the disbursement and expenditure of funds appropriated for the improvement of rivers and harbors.

"All examinations and surveys of projects relating to flood control shall include a comprehensive study of the watershed or watersheds, and the report thereon in addition to any other matter upon which a report is required shall give such data as it may be practicable to secure in regard to (a) the extent and character of the area to be affected by the proposed improvement; (b) the probable effect upon any navigable water or waterway; (c) the possible economical development and utilization of water power; and (d) such other uses as may be properly related to or co-ordinated with the project. And the heads of the several departments of the Government may, in their discretion, upon the request of the Secretary of War, detail representatives from their respective departments to assist the Engineers of the Army in the study and examination of such watersheds, to the end that duplication of work may be avoided and the various services of the Government economically co-ordinated therein; Provided, That all reports on preliminary examinations hereafter authorized, together with the report of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors thereon, shall be submitted by the Secretary of War to the Chief of Engineers, with his recommendations, and shall be transmitted by the Secretary of War to the House of Representatives, and are hereby ordered to be printed when so made.

How to Apportion Expense. "In the consideration of all works, and projects relating to flood control, which may be submitted to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors for consideration and recommendation, said board shall, in addition to any other matters upon which it may be required to report, state its opinion as to (a) what Federal interest, if any, is involved in the proposed improvement; (b) what part of the expense, if any, should be borne by the United States; and (c) the advisability of adopting the project.

"An examinations and reports which may now be made by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors upon request of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors relating to works or projects of navigation shall in like manner be made upon request of the Committee on Flood Control on all works and projects relating to flood control."

With the passage of this bill, which is contemplated at the December session of Congress, the machinery for participation by the Federal government will be provided. To completely carry out the proposal of co-operation by the counties, the state and the nation an act of the Pennsylvania legislature committing the state to such river regulation projects is required. The passage of such a law will be sought in the session of 1917.

Curious Raincoats. When rain falls in tropical countries there is no mistake about it. The rain comes as if it meant to sweep away all such trifles as trees and bushes. A man who goes out in this deluge must protect himself, but he finds that a mackintosh of the lightest kind has its disadvantages, for it keeps the rain out it also keeps the heat in.

The raincoat devised by the Mexicans is called a "chino" and is so porous that the heat of the body readily escapes, while, owing to its construction, it keeps the wearer dry. The chino is made of numberless long, narrow strips of dried palm leaf, one end of each strip being woven into a light fabric and the rest falling loose. The wearer of this garment rustles as he walks, and the rain pattering upon it makes a pleasant sound. Arrived at the house, he takes off his palm leaf hat, shakes it and hangs it up to dry. Then he slips off his chino, shakes that also and hangs it up. He himself is untouched by the rain, but the chino as it hangs up looks like a huge, damp brown cassock.

Healthful Whipping. It is considered beneficial to be whipped or spanked provided it is done mechanically. In the mechanotherapy departments of up to date institutions the whipping post, a mechanical device for therapeutic paddling, is an accredited healing machine. You are whipped by straps of heavy cloth or leather attached to two rapidly revolving posts. When you take the treatment you step backward into the flying whips and receive their blows upon your legs, back, abdomen or chest, depending upon the malady from which you are suffering. The impact of the straps is just sufficient to set the blood in free circulation. There is no smarting, stinging, sensation because the straps are broad enough to eliminate any possibility of a cutting blow. You are paddled rather than lashed. The whipping post is valuable in many types of nervousness.—Popular Science Monthly.

Using Up Energy. "A calor" is the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pint of water 4 degrees Fahrenheit. If a man rises from his chair and walks about eight feet, then returns, he uses up one of these units," writes Dr. Edwin P. Bowers in "Slidesteping in Health."

"Yet the body, even while resting or quiet in sleep, is constantly using up energy. It is also giving off heat about as rapidly as a sixteen candle power electric lamp."

To make up for this constant loss of heat and energy from 2,000 to 3,000 calories are needed every twenty-four hours. This is why we eat, and it behooves us to see that our food furnishes about the right number of calories.

Statuary Hall. The national statuary hall was formerly the old hall of the house of representatives in Washington. It was established by act of congress on July 2, 1874. The president was authorized to invite each state to contribute to the collection to be formed with two statues, in either marble or bronze, of deceased citizens of the state whom "for historic renown or for civil or military services" the state would consider as worthy of commemoration in this national hall of statuary. About twenty-five states have contributed statues to the hall some of them only one.

Family Relations. "Who is that man you were just talking with?" "That's my brother-in-law." "He looks enough like you to be your own brother." "He is my own brother. We are twins." "Twins? Then why did you say he was your brother-in-law?" "Because he is. I have three brothers—one in law, one in medicine and one in the army."

Her Uplift Sakers. "What is Gertrude Gadder's latest?" "Prison reform."

"Along what lines?" "She thinks every convict ought to have a canary in his cell."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

AN EASY WAY TO REDUCE FLESH.

Well, right here you have it in 5-grain tassco tablets which you may secure at People's Drug Store. They are pleasant to take, perfectly harmless and cause no restrictions of habit or eating, and reduce the flesh, little by little, until you are down to the number of pounds you wish to weigh. Too much flesh is undesirable, as most quite stout people will readily admit, and it detracts from one's good appearance; makes one clumsy and short of breath.

There isn't any reason why anyone should be too stout, when there's this much-tried, perfectly satisfactory remedy at People's Drug Store. Tassco tablets (don't forget the name) are recommended by physicians and are guaranteed to be perfectly harmless. Refuse substitutes, if you can not come to our store, we will mail Tassco to you.

CHAS. E. HUGHES CHALLENGED

WITH 21 QUESTIONS BY DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

Light Mr. Hughes and the Republican Party Could Give the Voters.

Candidate Charles E. Hughes and the Republican party are challenged in the Democratic National textbook, just from the press, to speak out for or against the record of achievement made by President Wilson and the Democrats.

The challenge is issued in twenty-one brief, direct and pointed questions addressed to Mr. Hughes and the Republicans by the Democratic National Committee and the Democratic Congressional Committee. All the large issues, domestic and international, are treated. The questions carry the caption "Appeal for Light for Sixteen Million Voters; Let Mr. Hughes and the Republican Party Answer."

These questions are:

1. Do you favor repeal of the Federal Reserve Act passed by a Democratic congress, recommended and approved by President Wilson, under which the danger of financial panics is forever banished from the United States?

2. Would you have protested against the violation of Belgian neutrality and have backed the protest by plunging America into the European carnival of slaughter?

3. Do you favor repeal of the Rural Credits Act, passed by a Democratic congress, recommended and approved by President Wilson, which gives long-term credit at interest rates that promise an annual saving of $150,000,000 to the farmers?

4. Would you have recognized Victoriana Huerta as President of Mexico?

5. Do you favor repeal of the Clayton Anti-trust Act, passed by a Democratic congress and approved by President Wilson, which overthrew the principle that the labor of human being is a mere commodity of commerce?

6. Will you, Mr. Hughes, recommend, and will the Republican party in congress support a law establishing universal compulsory military service in the United States?

7. Do you advocate repeal of the Federal Trade Commission Act, passed by a Democratic congress, recommended and approved by President Wilson, which has given so much assistance to legitimate business enterprises and under which adequate protection against unfair competition is provided?

8. Mr. Hughes, would you have urged the policy of diplomatic negotiation as a means of summoning the moral force of law and neutral opinion to stop Germany's illegal use of submarines?

9. Do you favor the repeal of the "porkless" Good Roads Act, passed by a Democratic congress and approved by President Wilson, for the development of rural highways?

10. Would you, Mr. Hughes, have broken relations with Germany and sent our young men by the hundreds of thousands to nameless graves at the bottom of the Atlantic or in Flanders before the policy of diplomatic negotiation had had thorough trial?

11. Will you undertake to repeal the income tax, passed by a Democratic congress, recommended and approved by President Wilson, which places a just share of the burden of taxation upon those best able to bear it?

12. Do you favor violating neutrality and risking the future safety of your country by placing an embargo on munitions of war?

13. Do you favor repeal of the Agricultural Extension Act, passed by a Democratic congress, recommended and approved by President Wilson, which for the first time provides facilities for carrying direct to the farmer practical scientific knowledge of how to increase the profits of his farm?

14. Do you favor intervention in Mexico?

15. Do you advocate repeal of the Grain Standards and Warehouse Acts passed by a Democratic congress, recommended and approved by President Wilson, which aid commerce in the great staple cereals and enable owners of stored agricultural products to secure loans on warehouse receipts on better terms?

16. What is your attitude towards the dollarists of your party who have attempted to prevent the enforcement by President Wilson of the part of the American government and by all American citizens, of an honest neutrality towards all the warring nations of Europe?

17. In view of the fact that the largest amount collected in any one year under the highest tariff ever enacted, Payne-Adrich Act, was $180,000,000, what form of taxation would you substitute to pay a "preparedness" cost of $300,000,000?

18. Do you favor the reactionary Republican plan of granting huge subsidies to favored corporations, money collected from the people by taxation, as the best way of encouraging the development of an American merchant marine?

19. Do you favor repeal of the child labor law, the anti-injunction law, the seaman's act and related social justice measures of high importance, passed by a Democratic congress and recommended and approved by President Wilson?

20. Do you favor re-enactment of the Payne-Adrich Act, which betrayed your party's campaign pledge of 1908, and which has been renounced by many Republican and all Progressive leaders?

21. Do you stand with those Progressives and progressive Republicans in congress who voted for practically all the progressive measures mentioned above, or do you stand with the reactionary Republicans who voted against them?

In conclusion the two Democratic committees say:

"President Wilson and the Democratic party submit their case to the American people on the record they have made. Broadly speaking that is the issue of the campaign. Upon the public survey and estimate of that record depends the outcome of the election.

"If, as charged by you, Mr. Hughes, and your supporters, that record is bad and does not justify the continued confidence of the country it will become your duty, if elected, to do all in your power to change that record. We submit that in all fair verdict you are contesting, are entitled to know how much of this record you and your party will attempt to destroy if placed in power."

Schools to Open October 2nd.

Now that it has been decided to defer the opening of the schools until October 2nd, parents should take advantage of this additional time by placing their children in good physical condition to enter school. Each year a large proportion of the school children are found to have physical defects which require medical or surgical attention. In order to have these deficiencies corrected, time is often lost at school, this working a hardship upon the little ones to make up their studies. This is the time, therefore, to consult your family doctor about the physical state of your children.

The change from home life to that of the school, calls into use the higher faculties and the special senses of hearing and sight. All defects which have probably escaped the notice of the mother are now brought to the surface and are readily detected by the observant teacher and medical inspector. Backwardness in school studies is sometimes the first inkling which may lead the teacher to suspect that the child may have some physical defect. The fact that most children soon catch upon their school studies after proper medical and surgical attention has been given them, is ample proof of the need of early correction of these faults.

Vaccination is the first essential preparation of the child for school life. This preventive measure is required by law and should be performed now in order to save loss of time and unnecessary inconvenience when ready to register your child.

The dentist should be consulted about the teeth. This suggestion is a very important one because last year over 75,000 school children were found to have defective teeth of such severity as to require the services of a dentist. Many a toothache could be spared and loss of time from school avoided if parents would not delay in having the faulty teeth of their children corrected.

Good eyesight is an important asset to the school child. There are, however, a large number of children who are found to be in need of eye glasses to improve their vision. In a majority of instances, delinquent children soon improve in their scholarship when the proper glasses are prescribed.

The childhood diseases are often complicated by inflammation of the ears resulting in more or less deficiency in the acuity of hearing or in a chronic discharge of pus from the ears which is not only a menace to the health of the child but is a serious drawback in its educational progress. A timely correction of these defects is therefore a matter of great importance.

Mouth breathing is very common among children of school age and is usually due to some obstruction in the respiratory passages, either tonsils or adenoids. These obstructions should be removed at an early date for their continued presence may be responsible for poor physical development, defective speech or mental retardation.

It therefore behooves parents to have a complete physical examination of their children made by the family physician before they enter or return to school and all defects should be corrected as soon as possible. If this is not done, then parents should not be surprised when they receive notices from the Board of Education, telling them of the physical defects of their children found by the school doctors upon examination and urging immediate attention.

Salary of the President. In the salary of the President of the Sixtieth congress the president's salary was fixed at $75,000 a year, and in addition he is allowed $25,000 for traveling expenses, which is a practically extra salary, as he does not have to return any of it to be used for traveling expenses.

William L. W. Seabrook, editor of the "American Sentinel" of Westminster, died on Monday at his home almost 83 years old. He was a son of Wm. Johnston Seabrook and was born near Fairfield, this county, October 9, 1833. His father, a railroad contractor, was killed on the old "Tapeworm" railroad, a section of which he was building, when the son was four years old. His mother returned to her former home at Creagerstown, Md., when he was ten years old. He worked as a boy on the farm and in a store and when 17 years old came to Gettysburg and learned printing trade with Robert Goodloe Harper, editor of the "Sentinel." He bought an interest in the "Frederick Herald" in 1852 when 19 years old. In 1857 he was elected commissioner of the land office and re-elected in 1863 without opposition. He became part owner of the "American Sentinel" of Westminster and in 1874 sold his interest and for the next ten years he held important Federal positions. In 1886 he again became editor of the "American Sentinel." In 1864 he was a delegate to the national convention which re-nominated President Lincoln and was the Maryland member of the notification committee, and was the last survivor of the fourteen Maryland delegates in the convention and possibly the last survivor of all who then took part in it. Clinical experiments conducted at the institute by Dr. Clark and myself on monkeys artificially infected with infantile paralysis have produced encouraging results."

Houses in Bagdad.

A Bagdad house in the summer is a fiery furnace, and no one, unless his name be Shadrach or Meshach or Abednego, could live within its four walls with comfort, and yet the natives have made a brave attempt to overcome the difficulties of their situation. Deep in the ground they have built cellars, or serdabs, and these serve as cooling chambers. The cellars are kept pretty dark. "The light enters," says one who has lived there, "through small windows, or openings, where, instead of glass, is placed a lattice of palm filled with a prickly camel's thorn. Several times a day the occupants sprinkle water on these thorns, and the moisture cools the hot wind as it passes through the rooms and gives a comparatively refreshing breeze. But toward night these cellars become unbearably close, and then the entire city mounts to the flat roofs, where it dines and sleeps."—Boston Transcript.

Warships in Battle.

In the days of wooden war vessels two frigates, or line-of-battle ships, might be lashed together and fire shot into each other's interiors for an indefinite period. When Paul Jones was summoned to surrender he replied that he had not yet begun to fight. At a distance of eight miles there would not be much conversation between hostile commanders, even by signals, and after a vessel is hit there isn't much question as to its future. A vessel may be injured by gunfire and get away, but if a floating steel fort is hit below the armor belt by a torpedo or has its deck penetrated by a fifteen inch shell which meets expectations in the promptness of its explosions it does not remain in sight many minutes, and the crew can't float around on spars until they are picked up, for there are no spars. In ten minutes the formidable warship goes under and carries everybody on board.—Philadelphia Record.

The Title "Engineer."

It is unfortunate, according to the Engineering Record, that in America most people associate the word "engineer" with a man who runs an engine or a boiler. Even the man who operates the boilers of an apartment building is called an "engineer," although the name is entirely a misnomer when applied to him. He may be a good mechanic, but he is not an engineer. The gray haired man who drives the locomotive of a transcontinental limited and who holds the lives of hundreds of human beings in his care belongs to the very highest type of mechanic, but he is not an engineer, except in the United States and Canada. All foreign languages have words that properly designate the work these men are doing. In our country there is no word to distinguish them from the bridge builder, the sanitary expert, etc.

Not Manlike.

Patience—Women seem to be doing everything that men do nowadays. Patience—Nonsense! You never saw a man powdering his nose fifty times a day, did you?—Yonkers Statesman.

Kings of Jerusalem.
